Japs Kill Flier In Tokyo Battle

By ROBBIN COONS

OKINAWA, Aug. 18 (AP)—Fourteen Japanese Zeke fighter planes attacked two unescorted American B-32's on a reconnaissance mission over Tokyo today, killing an aerial photographer in one plane, wounding two of the crew and damaging both craft badly. The Americans shot down two of the attacking planes and probably downed two more.

It was the second attack on American reconnaissance planes in two days. Today's attack came only a few hours after Japan's official acceptance of Gen. MacArthur's instructions to fly a peace delegation to Manila tomorrow.

The B-32's were cruising at 20,000 feet over the surrendered capital when the plane piloted by Lt. J. R. Anderson, Charlotte, N. C., was jumped by the Japanese, who shot out one of the engines.

Anderson and his co-pilot, Lt. R. E. Thomas, Comanche, Tex., dropped behind and radioed the second plane, piloted by Capt. J. Klein, Wassau, Wis., to "slow down!"

They reported hearing one Jap reply in English via radio, "Yes, slow down so I can shoot you."

"Our reply was unprintable," Anderson said.

Sgt. J. S. Smart, Dallas, Tex., turret gunner, and Sgt. John Houston, Ft. Worth, Tex., were credited with downing two of the attackers. Sgt. Ben. Clayworth of Wilkes-Barre, Pa., was credited with a probable. Navigator Lt. Tom Robinson, New York city, administered first aid to the wounded aboard Anderson's plane.

(The time of the incident was not gvien in this dispatch but apparently it fell within the 48-hour time limit which the Japanese said they would require to make Thursday's cease fire order effective in the home isands.)

MacArthur's Manila Parley Set for Monday

MANILA, Aug. 18 (AP)—Japan officially informed Gen. MacArthur tonight that surrender emissaries would leave Japan Sunday morning—weather permittnig—and a headquarters spokesman said they would be flown straight from Ie island, off Okinawa, to Manila.

The official Japanese message said the emissaries would arrive at Ie about 1:20 p. m. Sunday (12:20 a. m., Sunday, EWT).

An American plane will pick up the emissaries from two green-crossed, white Japanese transports at Ie and is expected to reach Manila at 7 or 8 o'clock that night. (7 or 8 a. m., Sunday, EWT.)

A spokesman said the Japs' credentials would be examined that night, but the conference with MacArthur would not start until Monday.

The flight to Manila will require 5½ to 6 hours after whatever delay is involved in the Ie transfer and takeoff.

Japan's long delayed flight schedule—MacArthur originally instructed the envoy to reach Ie yesterday en route to Manila—was radioed at 6:33 p. m today, on the designated frequency. That was 87 minutes earlier than Japan had promised the information in a message which also said another frequency would be used.

Tokyo said the envoys would depart in two planes from Kisarazu airdrome, southeast of Tokyo, at 7 a. m. (6 p. m. Saturday, E.W.T.)

MacArthur had specified one plane be used, and that it should depart from Sata Misaki on the southern tip of Kyushu island.

The new Japanese message said two planes—unarmed, twin engined, single winged land attack aircraft—would fly over Sata Misaki and gave a detailed schedule for the flight from that point to Ie Shima. It said the planes would bear "markings designated by "you"—green crosses on white background.

The Japs apparently also were using different type planes than MacArthur designated: "Zero type, model 22-L2D3." But the general had said they could make such a change.

Meantime, preparations continued under unusual secrecy for holding the momentous preliminary peace conference in this army city. Headquarters continued to decline to reveal where MacArthur would meet the emissaries or give any other advance details.

From all indications, the Japanese will be moved as quietly as possible on their necessary journey through Manila, whose residents still remember vividly brutalities of the Japanese occupation. It is understood the visitors will be housed in special residences with a military police guard.

The message giving the envoy schedule was interpreted by some as indicating the Japs had abandoned hope of further stalling negotiations.

U. S. Won't OK Bulgarian Reds

WASHINGTON, Aug. 18 (AP)—Secretary of State Byrnes today notified the Communist-dominated government of Bulgaria that the United States does not regard it as adequately representative of all democratic elements in that country.

In a blunt statement to the Sofia administration Byrnes also declared that the Bulgarian government evidently has not made arrangements for all the democratic elements in Bulgaria to take part in an election there on Aug. 26 "free from the fear of force and intimidation."

He made it quite clear that while the United States would like to recognize a Bulgarian government, it does not intend to do so until a more representative regime has been set up, and that the United States will not conclude a peace treaty with Bulgaria until that has come about.

A Must for Japs

MANILA, Aug. 18 (INS)—Gen. MacArthur again cracked down today on the defeated Jap government with orders to use the code word "Bataan."

The two planes carrying the Jap surrender party, scheduled to leave Japan at 7 a. m. Sunday (3 p. m. Saturday PWT), were commanded by MacArthur to "use call signs Bataan one and Bataan two."

A stern directive pointed out that "Bataan" was designated as a code word in MacArthur's message to Tokyo Aug. 15. It has not yet been used in any Jap communication.

Jap's Kwantung Army Surrender Now Under Way

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 18 (INS)—The Russian radio at Khabarovsk indicated today that surrender of the entire Japanese Kwantung army in Manchuria, unofficially estimated at one million troops, was under way.

The radio broadcast a message to Gen. Otozo Yamada, commander in chief of the Kwantung army, that Soviet delegates landed at Harbin airport at 7:30 p.m. Khabarovsk time (6:30 a.m. EWT) today to pick up the Japanese surrender delegate.

The message informed the Japanese general that the Russian commander in Manchuria, Marshal Vasilevsky, had ordered Soviet forces "to cease military operations on all sectors of the front after all operations have stopped on your side."

The dispatch, recorded by the FCC, said the Soviet delegation was under orders to fly the Jap surrender representative from Harbin directly to Marshal Vasilevsky's headquarters.

MELBOURNE, Aug. 18 (AP)—A smiling Japanese major led surrender envoys of Emperor Hirohito's 17th Army through a tropical downpour today to meet three Australian officers who had been waiting three days on the banks of the Mivo River of Bougainville island in the Solomons.

Through an interpreter Maj. Otsu acknowledged the emperor had been defeated and said he had been sent by Lt. Gen. Kanda to receive terms for surrender of the 17th Japanese Army.

NEW YORK, Aug. 18 (AP)—Domei said today in a dispatch from Shanghai that "the Shanghai branch of the Kuomintang" (Chinese Government Party) had begun "reconstructive activities" prior to the arrival of the new mayor, Chien Ta-Chun, recently appointed by Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek.

TO MEET JAPS—Brig. Gen. Fred H. Smith, Jr., of Washington, D. C., is one of three U. S. officers who will meet the Jap surrender delegates on their arrival at Ie Shima.

How Adamant Truman Won at Potsdam Parley

WASHINGTON, Aug. 18 (INS)—The Washington Times-Herald "bannered" a page one article today declaring "the story of the Potsdam conference is one of successful American insistence that the United States has the paramount interest in the Pacific and Eastern Asia."

The story asserted that Britain and Russia accepted the American position.

""The American position, according to eyewitnesses, was firmly maintained by President Truman, who was credited with scoring a diplomatic triumph in discussions on Pacific problems which spread over several conference sessions," the article continued.

"The President frankly and forcefully presented the American point of view and at times brushed aside opposition with an abruptness that precluded further discussions.

"Joseph Stalin, whom the Chief Executive addresses in Missouri fashion as 'Mr. Marshal,' was said to have been impressed by Mr. Truman's vigor and logic.

It continued:

"Mr. Truman stated in effect that just as Russia felt she had security interests in Europe, so did the United States feel that she had paramount interests in the Far East.

"Mr. Truman insisted that the Cairo declaration be followed in the provision relating to Manchuria and Korea.

"Stalin recalled that the late President Roosevelt had agreed that these areas would be in Russia's sphere of influence. Mr. Truman said he had examined the minutes of the Teheran and Yalta conferences and found no such agreement.

"Stalin said the understanding was verbal. Mr. Truman assured him that Roosevelt had not intended to make such a pledge; that the Marshal had probably misunderstood the late President's words on the subject.

"Stalin agreed but asked that Russia's 1904 rights in the Chinese Eastern Railway be returned to the Soviets and that Russia be given a lease on the Jap-held Kwantung Peninsula which contains the port of Dairen. Mr. Truman replied that Stalin would have to negotiate for that with Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek.

"It is reported high in Administration circles that Chiang had since agreed to return of the railroad rights but would not relinquish the entire peninsula, although he did agree to make the great port of Dairen a free port."

HARA-KIRI VICTIM — The chief of Japan's naval general staff, V. Adm. Takijiro Onishi, has been reported to have committed suicide following the surrender of his country to the Allies. Int'l News Photo

The article further stated that Mr. Truman refused Stalin's request to withdraw U. S. support of Chiang in favor of T. V. Soong; that the President agreed to Russia's request for the rest of Sakhalin island but declined even to speak of the Kurile Islands.

The story told also of Mr. Truman inviting Stalin to bring Russia into war but "emphasizing that the United States considered Japan her responsibility because this country had won that war and would shortly force surrender with the atom bomb."

It continued:

"Stalin demanded liquidation of the emperor. Mr. Truman was firm for retention of the emperor in the status of a puppet as a means of saving American lives and bringing about orderly occupation of the Jap homeland.

Japs Get Full Truth Of Abject Defeat

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 18 (AP)—The Japanese people, treated heretofore to a series of face-saving, evasive explanations of their surrender, were told flatly today by one of their top-flight leaders they are a beaten people and must pay the price for an imperialistic dream bubble that burst in the blast of atomic bombs.

After four days of shock-absorbing statements to the effect the Nipponese defeat "is but temporary," and "we still think our way of thinking is right," hard-headed Foreign Minister Mamoru Shigemitsu, who held the same post in Kuniaki Koiso's war cabinet, put the Jap position in plain words.

"Unfortunately," he bluntly told a press conference reported by Domei News Agency, "we have to face the fact that we have been defeated.

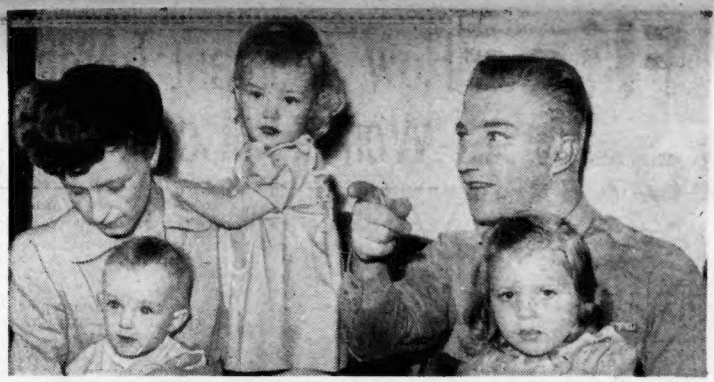
"This fact should be admitted as it is, and any over-optimistic view should be avoided. Every Japanese should repeatedly read, and realize, the terms of the Potsdam Declaration and carry them out courageously."

Despite the flatness of the foreign minister's statement, Domei's broadcast sought to soften the harshness of reality and stressed a statement by Shigemitsu that Japan must win "the world's sympathy and understanding."

Earlier Domei indicated that Nippon's invasion jitters were giving way to "occupation jitters," in denying as "groundless" rumors that American troops and a "Chungking army" had landed on Honshu.

Japan also looked today to the postwar period and its problems. Reconversion, rebuilding, new taxes, the upholding of its national policy in a projected national history—and to the preservation of "public peace and order" under the "emergency" of occupation.

One of Japan's postwar projects will be the writing of a national history "at this time of unprecedented national difficulties" in order to "uphold the spirit of protecting the national polity," Domei reported in another dispatch.



LT. AND MRS. TRAVIS BRYAN WITH DIANA, GERALDINE AND PATRICIA
Malden Family Seeks Medical Aid for Paralyzed Daughter, 3

Ailing Baby Girl, 3, Gets Medical Aid

After considering several offers of assistance, Army Lt. and Mrs. Travis T. Bryan, Jr., accepted a proposal today by which their ailing first-born daughter, Diana, 3, will be examined and treated by a well-known surgeon in a western Massachusetts community.

The young parents, who pocketed their pride to seek newspaper assistance in solving the problem of little Diana's welfare, were reluctant to discuss the offer other than to say it had been arranged through a community church and that they would take their daughter to western Massachusetts Monday morning.

They disclosed, too, that they had received numerous offers to adopt the child but they did not want that. Their idea is not to "give her away" but to arrange for her to receive the care and special treatment she needs.

The couple said they were no longer able to do this themselves and for that reason had sought assistance. Mrs. Bryan, who weighs only 96 pounds, has found herself unable to help the child and care for her two smaller daughters as well.

Diana now is three years and eight months old. She cannot walk or talk. Her legs are almost useless and her arms and hands show no coordination. Her lips move but she makes only a soft, whistling sound.

Her blue eyes are large, luminous and expressive. They follow with interest the happy antics of her two sisters, Patricia Gayle, 19 months, and Jeri Travis, 7 months.

The telephone rings incessantly in the modest Bryan apartment in Pleasant st., Malden, since word spread that Diana was a "giveaway child," and the youngster's eyes seem mirrored with inquisitiveness as she watches her daddy answer to explain.

Lt. Bryan has been a regular Army man for 10 years. He enlisted as a private and his duties frequently take him away from his family. Since June he's been on furlough to help find an institution where Diana would get proper attention. He's due back at his post, Ft. Bliss, Tex., Tuesday. That's why, he says, he sought to interest the public in the family plight.

DIANA BRYAN, 3
Hospital Aid Sought

"Diana has what the doctors call spastic paralysis," he states. "Her case isn't hopeless. She might get the use of her limbs if she could have treatments for muscular co-ordination. We can't give them at home. I've tried welfare agencies, social-service agencies, private institutions. One private hospital wanted $175 a month to care for her. If we paid that, we ourselves couldn't live. State welfare can't take her because she's not 6 years old. The other agencies were co-operative and considerate, but no help.

"We would like to place her in an institution for her own sake. Failing that, we would agree to a private home, but the people would have to love her and care for her as much as we do and have enough money to give her what she needs."

No. Shore Bus Men Call Strike

Drivers of the Rapid Transit, Inc., serving 8000 Winthrop commuters alone, announced today they would strike at 1 a. m. tomorrow on all lines in protest over provisions of a new contract. Other branches serve Saugus and parts of Revere. It was at least the third time in the past two years the line has suffered shutdowns, but it was the first time the drivers gave warning. Previously, they walked off the job leaving commuters waiting at street corners.

William S. Rockhill, vice-president of the line, said the company had been warned of the strike and had sought unsuccessfully for two days to discuss the matter with the drivers.

"The trouble has been brewing since eight weeks ago when union officers and company officials went before the State Board of Arbitration and Conciliation to negotiate a new contract," Rockhill said.

"Both parties then signed an agreement to accept the decision of the state board on 13 disputed matters. The board gave its decision Aug. 9 and drivers now say they are walking out and have notified me they will not even sit down again with the state board.

"The board ordered us to give the men a $25 Christmas bonus and pay time and a half for all over a 44-hour week."

Representatives of the drivers said they had been turned down by the state board in their demand for a night shift pay differential and for overtime pay on spread shifts.

Drivers also seek a pension, a matter the state board referred back for further consideration.

They are members of the Amalgamated Ass'n of Street and Railway Workers and Bus Drivers Union, Local 1146. President of the local is John Taatjes.

Widow of Slain Hub Man Asks Retribution

While a murder warrant was en route to the Nevada State Prison at Carson City, charging a convict with the holdup-slaying of a wine store clerk in Boston last New Year's eve, the Dorchester widow of the victim, mother of four children, today demanded that the accused be made to pay in full for the crime.

The widow is Mrs. Bronislaus Petruswicz of Speedwell st., whose husband was fatally shot during a holdup at the Federal Wine Co.'s store in Federal st., Boston. Also shot and wounded was Thomas Kelley, 58, another employe, of Canterbury st., Roslindale.

The convict accused of the crime by the FBI and police, after a seven months' investigation, is Raphael Skopp, 35, of Brooklyn, N. Y., serving 14 years for an attempted robbery at Reno, Nev., last January.

Congress May Invite MacArthur Home for Honors

WASHINGTON, Aug. 18 (INS)—Congress may request the War Dept. to return Gen. MacArthur to the United States for a victory celebration.

Chairman May (D.) of Kentucky of the House military affairs committee said he would introduce on Sept. 5, when Congress reconvenes, a joint resolution inviting MacArthur to address the Senate.

"Gen. MacArthur is the one outstanding military leader who has not returned home since Pearl Harbor," May pointed out. "He's been 'Down Under,' taking the brunt of the fighting."

MacArthur would presumably be invited to receive the nation's homage on completion of the Japanese surrender and following establishment of Allied control over Japan.

Hero Back From Italy Dies in Back Bay Fall

Attleboro Couple Die Of Accidental Fumes

ATTLEBORO, Aug. 18—William A. Joyce, 76, retired jewelry worker, and his wife, Anne, 78, were found dead in their Hope st. home today, with two gas jets open in their kitchen stove. Medical Examiner Daniel J. Kiley said the deaths appeared to be accidental.

Joyce was found in the living room with matches in one hand. His wife was in bed. Dr. Kiley stated they apparently died Thursday night. When police, summoned by neighbors, arrived, they found the gas had ceased to flow after a quarter meter automatically closed it off.

NEW YORK, Aug. 18 (INS)—You can send a singing telegram again, all you have to do is find someone to warble it.

Bomber Sprays DDT Fighting Polio

ROCKFORD, Ill., Aug. 18 (AP)—DDT, the insecticide that fought disease bearing bugs in the war, will be sprayed on Rockford by airplane tomorrow in the community's fight against an infantile paralysis outbreak. Since early last month Illinois' third largest city and its metropolitan area with a population of 105,259 (1940) have had a total of 128 cases of poliomyelitis, 16 of them fatal.

DDT has been sprayed along gutters and roadsides from trucks as part of a research program but health officials sought use of an Army plane to provide more thorough coverage.

The Air Technical Service Command in Dayton, O., announced last night a B-25 Billy Mitchell bomber, carrying equipment originally tested for mosquito control in Panama, would spray the area tomorrow.

Chinese Delay March to Canton

By SPENCER MOOSA

CHUNGKING, Aug. 18 (AP)—A decision to march instead of fly the Chinese First Army into Canwas expected today to delay for several days the arrival of that American-trained and equipped army into the port where it is scheduled to accept the formal surrender of Japanese forces in south China.

Ease Curb on Beef, Veal, Ham; Lift 'Set-Aside' Plan

WASHINGTON, Aug. 18 (AP) Secretary of Agriculture Anderson today announced suspension of set-aside orders under which the government requisitioned supplies of beef, veal and ham for military and other war purposes.

Set-aside orders (first established for meat in 1944) were continued for the time being, however, for pork loins, shoulders and lard.

Lifting of the set-aside orders on beef, veal and hams reflects an improved supply of these commodities resulting largely from cut-backs in military requirements and from prospects of a heavy run of cattle to market during the late summer and fall.

Today's action paved the way for possible lifting of meat rationing in the fall, possibly in September.

Huge Building Boom Seen

WASHINGTON, Aug. 18 (AP)—Americans will build 10 to 15 million homes in the next decade.

This was predicted today by the nation's new construction boss, Hugh Potter.

These were other high spots as the swing-over to peacetime living moved ahead:

1—Food officials forecast more food of all kinds for civilians as scheduled Army cutbacks go into effect over the next few months. Meat rationing may end next month.

2—There were signs labor and management leaders may have given the Administration informal assurances that wartime no-strike, no-lockout pledges will be continued.

3—The War Production Board freed tremendous quantities of steel, copper and aluminum for consumer goods.

4—Plans for tax cuts took shape. Secretary of the Treasury Vinson said at a news conference he hopes for speedy action on a program in preparation.

5—Price controls came off imported wines and distilled spirits such as brandy, rum and cordials. But not whiskies. OPA said items freed had been selling below ceilings.

6—Surplus property officials said hundreds of government-owned war plants would be taken over by private industry during the next few months.

7—WPB Chairman J. A. Krug asked the nation's salvage committees to stay on the job. The need still is great for paper, tin cans and waste fats.

8—Quinine, restricted heretofore for the military's medical needs, is being released to civilians in limited quantities.

In predicting an unparalleled building boom, construction coordinator Potter said in an interview that all restrictions on the industry will be removed by Christmas. Many will go in a few weeks.

Potter expects shortages of lumber and other building materials to continue for awhile. But he thinks controls should be lifted so home builders will have some incentive to get architects to go to work on plans.

A 20 per cent reduction in military food requirements will apply until Jan. 1 when needs will be reduced another 35 per cent for the January-March quarter.

Requirements are expected to drop another 40 per cent for the March-June quarter and 50 per cent for the July-September period.

The Army had planned to take about 20 per cent of the September butter output. It now plans to take none.

95th Division Protests Order To Pacific Duty

HATTIESBURG, Miss., Aug. 18 (AP) — Ninety-Fifth Division troops, engaged in redeployment training when the Japs surrendered, are protesting against an occupation force assignment in the Pacific. Groups of enlisted men are sending telegrams to all members of Congress and to many newspapers.

The message said in part:

"We desire to substantiate recent pleas of other redeployment divisions to investigate planned shipment of European veterans to the Pacific. The 95th Division was in Europe 11 months and had 145 combat days. Most men have three years service. Service points average 55.

"Many men have families. Many men are over thirty. The plan to ship us to the Pacific after announced end of the war is most unfair.

"We understand there are more than a million physically fit men in the United States who never have been overseas. In the name of justice we ask full investigation and complete report to the American people."

Hong Kong to Stay British, Says London Spokesman

LONDON, Aug. 18 (AP)—A Foreign Office spokesman said today "Hong Kong is a part of the British Empire and we intend to occupy it just as any other part" but he asserted the British were not racing with the Chinese to get there first.

He said he could not confirm a report Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek had notified Britain officially Chinese intended to occupy the port. The British long have made it plain that after Japan's defeat they were determined to return to the big sea base, British-held for 100 years.

A responsible American source said the future of Hong Kong was one of the questions U. S. Ambassador to China Patrick J. Hurley discussed earlier with Churchill and that Churchill insisted Hong Kong remain under British control.

The liberal British weekly New Statesman and Nation said that Foreign Sec'y Bevin was "unlikely to wish to retain Hong Kong or to regard Malaya as territory for British exploitation."

"In the same way," the article added, "though De Gaulle has grandiloquently reasserted French claims in Indo-China, we doubt whether the present day France expects to return there with her old imperialistic absolutism.

"And it is clear that Dutch rule in the Netherlands East Indies only can be restored under new conditions."

'Blackhawks' 1st Home, to Pacific

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 17 (AP)—The 86th "Blackhawk" Division, first combat outfit returned to the U. S. from Europe, is being sent to the Pacific, Army officials announced today.

The division, which sailed for Europe in February, 1945, and saw 42 days of combat in the final days of the German war, is leaving all high point men, eligible for discharge, in the United States.

The 86th now is at a West Coast port, the War Department disclosed.

Turned Back From Pacific, 2073 Vets Here

First troopship to be diverted from the Pacific to the Port of Boston as a result of the Japanese surrender, the S. S. Sea Owl docked at Commonwealth Pier today to unload 2073 boisterously happy veterans, most of them members of the 12th and 15th Air Forces.

The Sea Owl was two days out of Panama last Wednesday, sailing directly to the Pacific from Europe, when orders came directing her to Boston and unloosing such a celebration that, as one veteran commented, "It even stopped the dice game."

"It was like a prisoner in the death house getting a reprieve," said Capt. William O'Brien, Catholic chaplain, who formerly served in St. Theresa's Church, Revere.

Among veterans aboard were members of the famed "Black Scorpions," the 64th fighter squadron of the 57th Fighter Group, which served with the British Eighth Army all the way from El Alamein, across North Africa and through Sicily and Italy.

"North Africa was the toughest," declared one of them, T-Sgt. Amie Lemieux, of North Main st., Fall River "We ate plenty of sand."

Members of the 65th Fighter Squadron of the same group also were aboard, carrying with them the same fighting cock mascot, Uncle Bud II, which they took overseas with them three years ago.

The veterans were overjoyed at getting back to American soil, although many of them expect to be sent to the Pacific area later for occupation duties.

Four similarly diverted transports are expected in Boston in the next few days. The SS Marine Devil with 2957 and the SS Brastagi with 1037 aboard arrive tomorrow. The USS General Richardson will debark 5242 Monday and 2149 will land from the SS Sea Fiddler Tuesday.

Pearl Harbor Probe Is Backed

By WILLIAM S. NEAL

WASHINGTON, Aug. 18 (INS) —Sen. Thomas (D.) of Utah, chairman of the Senate military affairs committee, proposed today that Congress investigate the Pearl Harbor disaster if the Army and Navy fail to conduct court-martial procedings.

Thomas said there should be civilian representation in an inquiry into the Jap sneak attack.

Rep. May (D.) of Kentucky, chairman of the House military affairs committee, arguing that the court-martial be conducted, said that while court-martial of Rear Adm. Husband E. Kimmel and Maj. Gen. Walter C. Short has been talked about, none has been held.

Sen. Walsh (D.) of Massachusetts, chairman of the Senate naval affairs committee, meanwhile called upon Navy Secretary Forrestal to deliver a complete record of its investigation to that committee.

MRS. DOROTHY JAY, BACK BAY
Keeps Throat Open With Surgical Thread

Hub Thrills GI Wife Despite Odd Ailment

Bearing up under one of the strangest handicaps on record with charming insouciance, Mrs. Dorothy Jay, 21, of Brimmer st., has been the wonder of her neighborhood for the past two weeks.

For during that time she has had to go around with a surgical thread running from inside her throat to a spool in her pocket.

Sent here from her home in Tampa, Fla., some months ago for treatment at Massachusetts General Hospital because her esophagus had closed up and she was unable to swallow she has full confidence in her recovery and refused to let the thread appendage mar her enjoyment of Boston.

"I thought it all out the first night I had to wear it," she explained today, when she reluctantly agreed to an interview. "I love Boston so I decided the thread would not stop me. If I ignored it, people probably wouldn't notice it. So I just run around as if there was nothing the matter and everybody is wonderful."

The thread helps to keep her throat open while doctors dilate it back to normal.

Her husband, Ben Jay, 26, a T-Sgt. in the Ninth Air Force was flown to this country from overseas when his wife was stricken four months ago.

Speed Ban Ends Here Tuesday

On the heels of a Washington announcement cancelling the nationwide 35-mile per hour sped limit for autos, Gov. Tobin said today that the ban in Massachusetts would be lifted at 12:01 a. m. next Tuesday.

The governor, along with chief executives of all states, was notified by telegram of the action by the Office of Defense Transportation rescinding the speed limit, in effect since Sept. 26, 1942, as a measure for conserving tires.

The ODT announcement said the ending of the sped limit would be effective tomorrow but Gov. Tobin ordered the Massachusetts limit, put into effect by former Gov. Saltonstall under his wartime emergency powers, to be continued until Tuesday.

Prior to Tobin's announcement, Motor Vehicle Registrar Rudolph King had urged motorists to exercise caution in increasing their speed on the highways, pointing out that worn motors and old and recaped tires might not be able to stand up under higher speeds.

Bonus Division Open Overtime to Aid Vets

To accommodate working war veterans, the Massachusetts Bonus Division offices in Ford Hall building remained open today, to receive applications for the state's $100 cash bonus, the staff having volunteered to work without Saturday overtime pay.

At the close of the opening day 2000 applications had been filed, of which 225 were completed and sent to the Adjutant-General's office to be checked against war records.

Test Tube Baby's Mother Acted to Replace Child

DENVER, Aug. 18—Mrs. Irene King's expected "test tube" baby, which caused her soldier husband to file a divorce suit in Chicago, was undertaken to replace her own child which she lost in birth, the attractive 20-year-old blonde disclosed today.

She explained her reasons in an exclusive interview with International News Service shortly after her husband, Pvt. Jesse R. King, 21, recently returned from nine months' service in Europe, filed suit for divorce in Chicago, charging desertion. King's attorney quoted the soldier as saying he disapproved of his wife's test tube project.

The baby is expected about Sept. 15, Mrs. King announced.

"I lost my own baby and doctors said the only way I could ever have another baby was by the 'test tube' method," she said.

Mrs. King said she obtained the idea of a "test tube" baby after reading an article about insemination in a national magazine.

After reading the article, she said she went to a doctor in Denver and received the artifical insemination. Regardless of whether her baby will be a boy or girl, Mrs. King said, she will name the child Michael Jean.

Her husband, Mrs. King said, came to see her in Denver and became angry when she showed him the magazine article.

"We talked over the situation and then went to the Red Cross to get some advice about a divorce," she declared. "The Red Cross sent us to an attorney who told us there was no need for a divorce—that we could get an annulment as we had only lived together for a short time.

"My husband left in a huff. The next thing I heard was the story out of Chicago, telling about him filing for a divorce."

Mrs. King said she met her husband in October, 1943, when he was stationed with the Army Air Corps at Kearney, Neb., her home town.

"He was later transferred to Scott Field, Illinois," she said. "I followed him, and four months later we were married in Chicago. Then he was transferred to Charleston, S. C., and he sent me to live with his folks in Chicago.

"But living with his folks was not a very happy experience. I get very nervous and I found out that I was going to have a baby —my own, not a 'test tube' baby, that time."

Mrs. King said she left her Chicago in-laws and returned to Kearney, where she lost her baby and doctors told her she could never have another child.

Later, she said, she went to Grand Rapids, Neb., and underwent an operation for the removal of her appendix. Meanwhile, her husband had been shipped overseas to Italy.

After leaving the Grand Rapids Hospital, she said she came to Denver where she got a job as a waitress. It was then, she said, she saw the article on artificial insemination and went to see a doctor.

"When my husband got back to this country, he wrote me a very sweet letter and said he was hurrying to Denver," Mrs. King said. "I hadn't told him about the "test tube" baby which I wanted to replace the baby I lost. When he got here and I told him, well, he got very mad."

In his Chicago divorce suit, Pvt. King stated he did not consent to the artificial insemination by which his wife expects a child next month.

King averred that while he was in Europe his wife wrote him July 27, 1944, telling him she didn't want to live with him any longer. Overseas from Dec. 14, 1943, he returned July 30, this year.

He alleged that upon his return he discovered his wife expecting a baby, that she stated and he verified it was not his child, and that she said she went to Denver from Chicago for the purpose of artificial insemination.

King's attorney, Leo J. Bartoline, said that under Illinois law even if Mrs. King does not contest the suit King will bear the burden of proof

Hat, Autos Clues In Lynn Slaying

Search for the slayers of Robert "Tex" Williams, 18-year-old ex-Marine and Haverhill gambler, was resumed in Revere, Boston and Haverhill today after disclosure that the victim's hat had been found and identified.

Williams' body, a bullet hole in the back, was found a week ago in the sandy flats off the Lynnway, near the Lynn General Electric plant.

Chief Inspector Charles T. Duggan of the Lynn police said a hat, found in an automobile abandoned in Revere, belonged to Williams, and that the machine had been used to transport the body to the spot where it was discovered.

He declined to say who made the identification.

The machine earlier had been identified as a car used in a dice game holdup at Plaistow, N. H.

"We cannot say yet why Williams was killed," Duggan told reporters. "But we do know that the automobile probably holds the key to the case and we are continuing the probe in three cities."

G. E. Plants Back To 40-Hour Week

The West Lynn and River Works plants of General Electric Co. on Monday will resume a 40-hour week after operating on a 48-hour basis throughout the war, it was announced by officials today. More than 25,000 employes will be affected.

The two big G. E. plants chalked up one of the top production records of the nation, winning E awards constantly. One of their most important products were vital super-chargers for planes.

At the same time, the company's Allerton st. plant, in that city, shut down on war production entirely today and will reconvert for civilian needs.

Girls arriving were told they must take a layoff of several weeks. Set-up men were kept on the job to re-tool machinery previously used to make delicate airplane parts.

Cape Resorts Plan Extra Week

Summer resorts were planning today to extend the summer season beyond Labor Day and Greater Boston merchants prepared for a resumption of the unprecedented buying boom next week, which followed immediately after the two-day victory celebration and the lifting of gasoline rationing.

The boom was also well under way throughout Cape Cod, with state and local police reporting the heaviest motor traffic since before the war, and with reservations for accommodation pouring in from thousands who have never visited the Cape before.

New Haven railroad officials stated that despite the increased motor traffic, its service on the Cape was being well patronized.

Reds Aim to Run Legion, VFW

Special to Boston Evening American

NEW YORK, Aug. 18—Under leadership of comrades discharged from the Armed Forces, the Communist Party is setting up special "veteran's committees" throughout the city to infiltrate such established organizations as the American Legion and the Veterans of Foreign Wars.

This city-wide campaign, it was learned today, was plotted at the state convention of the Communist Party held a few days ago at which A. W. Berry, top-ranking Negro Red, was put in charge of the new "veteran's" section of the Stalinist group.

Both the American Legion and VFW have warned state commanders and local posts of this communist campaign it was learned.

Parking Drive To Open Monday

Increased downtown auto traffic resulting from the end of gasoline rationing caused police today to prepare a drive against parking violations.

From 40 to 50 men will be assigned to the traffic division and will patrol downtown streets, beginning Monday, to tag cars for parking overtime or in restricted areas.

The drive will be in charge of Deputy Supt. James J. Henchy, head of the traffic division.

Veterans' Friend

Q—I have a son in the Navy who applied for family allowance for me, but was informed that I was not eligible. I divorced my first husband. We had three children, one of whom is the boy that applied for the allotment. There are two other children by second marriage. Have another son in the Navy and lost one recently in the European theater. My husband makes only small wages working in a shoe store and I am unable to make both ends meet on his salary. What do you suggest and am I entitled to an allotment? Mrs. McK., Roxbury.

A—Your son, or even both boys in service could make out a voluntary allotment for you if they desired. Whether or not you are entitled to receive a family allotment is a matter for the Allotment Division, of the Bureau of Supply and Accounts, U. S. Navy, Cleveland, Ohio to decide. Suggest that you visit the Home Service Branch of the Red Cross, 159 Mass. ave., Boston and make necessary application for allotment.

Q—To your knowledge what are the reasons an "Undesirable" discharge for unfitness is given to a Navy man? Also would that bar him from joining the Maritime Service? Is such a person entitled to the $100 state bonus? R. H., Dorchester.

A—Could be for reasons too numerous to mention, but essentially ex-serviceman was not adaptable to naval life. Discharge not given under honorable condition. Eligible to make application for Maritime. Whether or not acceptable to that branch is entirely up to Recruiting Officer. May apply for $100 bonus as long as discharge not dishonorable.

Q—Does a widow of a soldier killed overseas have to pay income tax on government insurance payments and also pension? E. M., Dorchester.

A—No, exempt from both federal and state tax.

Q—I would like to know if I am eligible for the state bonus? Was a member of the National Guard and was inducted into Federal service, Feb 3, 1941. Was discharged with a C. D. D., caused in line of duty, September, 1941. Receiving 30 per cent rating disability pension. A. B., Dorchester.

A—Yes, you are eligible to apply for the $100 state bonus having been on active duty following Sept. 16, 1940.

Try knocking out Hay Fever the scientific way

NEW!...VITAMIN
Trial Treatment for
HAY FEVER
BRINGING AMAZING RELIEF TO MANY HAY FEVER AND ASTHMA SUFFERERS
WHEN DUE TO ASCORBIC ACID LACK
VEGETRATES A-S-C may be just what you need

AMAZING hope for the relief of hay fever and asthma and other conditions due to allergies has been reported by a famous professor and other doctors.

For years hundreds of thousands of people have wandered about, unhappy sniffling and sneezing, and itching and wheezing for a few months each year, while doctors were baffled by the seriously prolonged "colds" and were at a loss as to how to treat them.

A great many scientists have been working to find something to give relief in these allergy conditions. Now, in high quantities of ascorbic acid some of them think they can offer fresh hope to the man or woman who is unfortunate enough to suffer from hay fever or asthma.

Large Quantities of Ascorbic Acid Relieved 88% of Cases in Clinical Tests

During a period of four years, a famous scientist had noticed that the body's supply of vitamin C seems to go down during hay fever attacks. So he decided to experiment with actual results of using unusually large doses of ascorbic acid in treating 25 human hay fever sufferers during the height of the hay fever season. These 25 hay fever sufferers were given large amounts of ascorbic acid daily and there was a decided improvement in 88% of the patients participating in this experiment.

Hay Fever—"Out"—Amazing Relief the New Scientific Way

Check with your doctor. Ask him what 100 mgm. ascorbic acid can do for the sufferer of hay fever, asthma and food allergies.

Three well known doctors recently reported in a prominent medical journal that cases of bronchial asthma showed marked improvement when the blood was saturated with ascorbic acid, which is the basis of "VEGETRATES A-S-C."

We all know that in this life nothing is certain. These tablets may not help but—taken with a mucus free diet should prove beneficial. Hay fever sufferers wishing to experiment with this high potency ascorbic acid can now get extra high strength ascorbic acid in easy-to-take tablets at the Nature Food Centres Stores. These tablets are called "VEGETRATES A-S-C TABLETS." Think of it!—all this ascorbic acid in one small tablet! Try "VEGETRATES A-S-C TABLETS" at once. They are inexpensive to use and are absolutely harmless. Each tiny "VEGETRATES A-S-C TABLET" contains 100 milligrams of ascorbic acid, over three times the minimum adult daily requirement. One or two of these tablets daily should be enough to give this a fair trial.

"VEGETRATES A-S-C TABLETS" will be found highly beneficial in improving the general condition, as well as effective in establishing systemic resistance to allergies.

Extra high strength ascorbic acid, as found in "VEGETRATES A-S-C TABLETS," offers such great promise of success in these miserable sensitivities that every hay fever sufferer should try for relief now. Why suffer this season if "VEGETRATES A-S-C TABLETS" may stop that sneeze? Get "VEGETRATES A-S-C TABLETS" today at any Nature Food Centres Store. 100 Tablet Bottle $2.50. Mail orders postpaid. For over 50 years, the Hearst Newspapers warned America about

JAPAN

San Francisco Examiner, September 8, 1905

"Whatever is right can be achieved through the irresistible power of awakened and informed public opinion. Our object, therefore, is not to enquire whether a thing can be done, but whether it ought to be done, and if it ought to be done, to so exert the forces of publicity that public opinion will compel it to be done."

W. R. Hearst

In the 1890's the Hearst Newspapers pointed out the "Yellow Peril" to U. S. interests in the Pacific.

In 1898 the Hearst Newspapers urged annexation of Hawaii to guard against growing Japanese power.

In 1905 the Hearst Newspapers published the startlingly prophetic cartoon reproduced above.

In 1912 the Hearst Newspapers focused national attention on Japanese attempts to colonize Lower California.

In 1919 the Hearst Newspapers fought the League mandate which handed over the Carolines, strategic Pacific islands, to the Japanese.

In 1921 the Hearst Newspapers opposed the decision of the Washington Disarmament Conference by which our government sacrificed 32 ships of the line.

In 1933 the Hearst Newspapers warned that Japan was taking over industrial control of the Philippines.

In 1941 the Hearst Newspapers, right up to the time that bombs fell on Pearl Harbor, were still hammering for strengthened fortifications in the Pacific.

Style-Plus in Fur Coats

By RUTH MUGGLEBEE
Beauty and Fashion Editor

IT MAY be a bit warm to talk about furs . . . but August is usually the month to make plans for the pelt to keep you warm. Only next winter . . . the fur coat will not only be a warming agent . . . but a classic for high style, fit and glamor . . . beautiful as well as functional.

For the costume look is the current and most important trend in furs for the coming season . . . and furs will stem from two important silhouettes. The basic line will be either "full and flared" or "straight and narrow." These two fundamentals are perfect backdrops for many interesting variations and unusual manipulations of the furs.

For once, artistic designing has gone into the process of developing fur styles . . . in much the same way as coats, suits and dresses are designed. This season the dressmaking theme in furs includes many variations such as the bolero and corselet . . . accentuating the vogue for the slim waistline . . . the flared peplum to complement the slim skirt . . . the jumper dress look even in furs.

EXTRA DEEP ARMHOLES

Then, too . . . there is the torso fitted tunic . . . the smock, the cape and the gilet as well as many others. The extra deep armhole is appartnt also in furs . . . stressed to go over and with everything.

Necklines are trying hard to grow collars . . . but for the most part . . . fur designers have kept them as simple and unimportant as possible. The butterfly sleeve . . . The bishop sleeve with fullness gathered at the wrist . . . and the shirtwaist sleeve with a narrow effect at the wrist . . . and all new treatments to replace the more usual turn back cuff of last season.

Because creative designing by some of the biggest names in fashion has gone into the making of fur coats . . . next season should see better and more beautiful fur coats than ever before.

Fur belts, fur hats and fur handbags also make their appearance this season . . . and coats and suits well-trimmed in fur.

HAVE YOU A WHITE broadtail in you home? Feast your envious eyes on this Maximilian-designed dramatic white broadtail coat with free swinging back and belted front. The supple and satiny fur is crushed gently in . . . the deep yoke effect is highlighted by the high roll collar . . . and all in all it is lusciousness personnified.

BLACK MAGIC via black broadtail is reflected in this full-length dinner wrap of satiny sleek Russian broadtail (center, top), created by Maximilian . . . in a slim hip-hugging, wrap-around fashion. The slim waist is accentuated with tremendous Chinese lantern sleeves caught in at the wrists. Opera and theatrical opening nights in the new era of peace will see a return to dress-up glamor.

MARVELOUSLY light and pliant sable skins fashioned as a stole to toss nonchalantly around your shoulders is herewith pictured. The deep sweeping effect of the stole is gently gathered in the front, making a divine silhouette.

IN THIS gorgeous coat strips of mink are worked vertically to make a wonderful shoulder line that breaks into sweeping fullness . . . and huge push-up melon sleeves put a new focus on the luxury of mink.

VERY ORIENTAL and very stunning is this sleek Somali leopard coat . . . fashioned by Maximilian in mandarin style. The sharp black and tawny tones are accented with molten yellow Rodier wool on turn-back cuffs and recessed revers.

Many Ways to Serve Beets

By MARTHA LEE

BEETS, LISTED as plentiful in local markets now, carry a high degree of iron for good blood building and can be served to advantage in many styles. Beets may even be baked, or stuffed and baked.

Remember in cooking that beets "bleed"—that is, they lose some of their precious juice in cooking unless the skins and part of the stems are left on while cooking. Always cook the beet whole for its full nutrition value.

Choose very small "baby" beets for that delicious dish of beets and beet greens. Cook the beets and greens in water until tender (15 or 20 minutes), drain, and chop them together. Season with butter or margarine, and salt.

SAVE THE BEET TOPS

In buying, choose beets with crisp fresh tops. Then you get two vegetables for the price of just one. The larger beet tops take a little longer to cook, but are especially high in food value. A little lemon juice sprinkled on the chopped greens just before serving enhances the flavor.

Some food specialists say that after removing coarse stems and damaged leaves from the beet greens and washing carefully, they may be parboiled for 10 minutes and the first water poured off and reserved as a soup liquid. But the newer food science says all juices must be preserved and taken into the body as soon as possible after cooking.

TO CAN BEETS

Next winter's pantry can be filled with home-canned beets now that they are so easily obtainable in the markets.

Deep red, tender and not too large beets are best chosen for this purpose. Boil until the skins can be slipped off. Slip the skins, trim the beets, and pack them into hot jars. Add 1 teaspoon of salt for each quart. Cover with boiling water. Process 40 minutes at 10 pounds pressure in a pressure canner. Complete the seal.

HARVARD BEETS

1 tbsp. cornstarch or 2 tbsp. flour
2 to 4 tbsp. sugar
½ tsp. salt ¼ cup vinegar
¼ cup water 2 tbsp. fat
3 cups cooked sliced beets

Mix cornstarch (or flour), sugar, and salt. Add vinegar and water and boil 5 minutes, stirring constantly. Add the fat and beets, and let stand until the sauce becomes red. Reheat if necessary.

QUICK BORSHT

Leftovers are used for this make-believe Russian cup of delight. Add finely chopped cooked beets to meat broth, along with chopped cooked onion, carrot or cabbage. Season with herbs and serve hot. Top with sour cream.

SPICED BEETS

2 cups cooked beets
2 tbsp. butter or margarine
4 tbsp. wine vinegar
Pinch of basil
Salt and pepper 1 tbsp. sugar

Cook tender, small beets and add sauce made by heating other ingredients. Serve hot. Makes 4 servings.

PICKLED BEETS

2 cups sliced cold beets
6 tbsp. vinegar 1 tbsp. sugar
Salt and pepper
Pinch of tarragon

When beets are cold, slice and serve with sauce made by heating other ingredients. Makes 4 servings.

STUFFED BEETS

4 cooked beets
½ tbsp. butter or margarine
½ tbsp. flour
½ cup warm milk
½ cup chopped walnuts
Pinch of salt

Make a hollow shell by scooping out beets and chop the pulp, setting it to one side. Melt the butter and stir the flour and salt into it. Then gradually add the milk. When the sauce is smooth add the chopped beet pulp and the walnuts. Use this mixture as the stuffing for the shells. Heat in a very hot oven for about 10 minutes just before serving. Makes 4 servings.

Wilde Twins Score in Film

"Twice Blessed," now playing at the Old South and Tremont, gives the pretty Wilde twins their first opportunity at straight acting, and they acquit themselves very well in this lightweight screen comedy.

The pretty twins have appeared in a few small roles in musicals, but they are so very much alike that it would seem if they wish to go on acting they should either draw lots for roles or alternate in scenes. We can't face a whole series of twin-confusion pictures, which seems a possibility.

The current film has the Wildes, Lyn and Lee, cast as the twin daughters of Gail Patrick and Preston Foster, who are divorced and have each custody of one twin. One of the daughters is a brilliant student of intellectual bent, the other an ordinary happy-go-lucky teenager.

MacARTHUR TAKES OVER

GENERAL DOUGLAS MacARTHUR has taken over the tense and complicated situation attending the capitulation of Japan with his characteristic energy and efficiency, and he will conduct the administration of conquered Japan in the same manner.

The appointment of General MacArthur as Supreme Allied Commander in the Pacific was the first act of President Truman after it was determined that Japan had fully met the terms of surrender.

It was very much to the credit of the President.

General MacArthur is not only eminently qualified for the assignment, but richly earned and deserved it.

THE OCCUPATION and administration of Japan is going to be a task of Herculean proportions, of tremendous difficulties and of grave danger.

It is going to extend over an indefinite, and undoubtedly a very long period of time.

It is going to require an occupying force of great size, fully equipped for war and ready for war.

In fact, the occupation of Japan is not going to be very much short of actual war.

There will be a constant and seething bitterness and unrest among the Japanese.

There will be continuous intrigue, and sporadic if not organized resistance.

There will probably be many casualties.

THE JAPANESE are not an intimidated and subdued people, although they are a completely beaten and conquered and humiliated people.

They are a vengeful people, with an ingrained instinct for treachery; and these national characteristics will be intensified by the enormity of the national disgrace that has come upon them.

It is not an ordinary police job that Gen. MacArthur and the American occupation forces must undertake.

They will be dealing from the beginning and for a very long time with an implacable enemy.

Only the utmost resourcefulness and vigilance, exercised under a compulsion for patience and justice which the Japanese will neither appreciate nor understand, will prevent an era of violence and bloodshed.

THIS tremendously difficult and dangerous task calls for a Supreme Commander in fact as well as in name.

It calls for a commander with a complete and unerring knowledge of the instincts and capacities of the Japanese for deceit and treachery.

It calls for an understanding and awareness of Japanese intrigue and trickery.

And since this is not to be a barbarian occupation, in the manner of the ancient Romans or of the modern Germans or of the Japanese themselves, but an American occupation having restoration of order and establishment of a permanently peaceful and productive way of life as its objectives, it calls for a veritable genius in command and administration.

ALL OF these essential qualifications for the Supreme Command in the Pacific are abundantly possessed by General MacArthur.

America is fortunate in his availability and appointment, for his superlative military leadership and administrative judgment will unquestionably save many American lives during the occupation — and America has already spent far too many lives in the Pacific war.

Even Japan is fortunate, for General MacArthur has infinite wisdom and a passion for justice as well as a genius for military leadership, and these things mean peace for Japan—an enforced peace, of course, in the beginning but eventually a fruitful peace if the Japanese people themselves desire and accept it.

Last night we saw the stars arise,
But clouds soon dimmed the other blue,
And when we sought each other's eyes
Tears dimmed them too!
We paced alone our favorite walk,
But paced in silence broken-hearted,
Of old we used to smile and talk,
Last night—we parted.

YOU KNOW the 25th anniversary is the silver wedding and the 50th anniversary is the golden wedding, but what is 75th anniversary? If you can answer that offhand you don't have to send me a stogie. Anyway, Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Wolfers of St. Joseph, Mo., celebrated their 75th wedding anniversary on July 17, 1945. Here's hoping that some day your charming wife and yourself may do the same. Mr. Wolfers is 97, Mrs. Wolfers, 90. Both are feeling fine and hope to be the first couple in the United States to celebrate a 100th wedding anniversary.

GETTING IT RIGHT: Referring to Babe Herman, the delightfully Dizzy Dodger, a casually stated he once batted for Ty Cobb. Then came a deluge of communications claiming Herman never even played for Detroit, no less batted for the great Ty. San Francisco sportscribe, Bud Spencer, recently asked Cobb: "Did Babe Herman ever bat for you?" Ty said: "When managing Detroit I decided to quit the game one day and told Herman to take my place. Naturally he took my turn at bat." Quite so. And as Herman took Ty's place at bat before taking his place in the outfield the man with the megaphone made the announcement: "Herman batting for Cobb." Losers on this argument please forward stogies to me at once.

ASKING: Queries from clients. Q—Did Tom Sharkey's cafe on East 14th st., N. Y. City, have a "Ladies' Annex" where beer and sandwiches were served? However, I believe it was just a saloon, and offered no entertainment of any kind, though there may have been some boxing bouts held in the rear of the establishment. Q—Who was the star of the film "Broadway Bill," Warner Baxter or William Powell? A—If it wasn't Warner Baxter I lose another stogie.

WASHINGTON SCENE

By GEORGE DIXON

Distributed by King Features Syndicate
Reproduction in Whole or in Part Strictly Prohibited.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 18—I suppose I am providing fodder for every half-baked punster in the country, but nevertheless the fact remains. The United States has a bird treaty with Britain.

Sen. W. George

Inasmuch as I have always decried waggishness, I steel myself against any comment that the treaty does not give Americans the right to hand our British cousins the bird, or vice versa. I will stick straight to the hard ornithological facts.

Because it was found that many cherished birds migrate between this country and parts of the British Empire, principally the Dominion of Canada, the great bird brains of both nations got together nearly 30 years ago on programs to insure their protection.

The Migratory Bird Treaty Act was signed, ratified and proclaimed Dec. 8, 1916, by both countries. The preamble is so impressive, I do not think I will ever be able to pass a migratory bird again, without removing my hat and bowing from the waist. It reads:

"The United States of America and His Majesty the King of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland and of the British Dominions beyond the seas, Emperor of India, being desirous of saving from indiscriminate slaughter and of insuring the preservation of such migratory birds as are either useful to man or are harmless, have resolved to adopt some uniform system of protection which shall effectively accomplish such objects and to the end of concluding a convention for this purpose have appointed as their respective plenipotentiaries:

"For the President of the United States—Robert Lansing, Secretary of State:

"For His Britannic Majesty—the Rt. Honorable Sir Cecil Arthur Spring Rice, G. C. V. O., K. C. M. G., His Majesty's Ambassador Extraordinary and Plenipotentiary at Washington."

This took place in the Administration of Woodrow Wilson, who had trouble with all sorts of birds, both migratory and stay-at-home. Lansing was his second Secretary of State, having been preceded by William Jennings Bryan and succeeded by Bainbridge Colby.

THE ONLY EXCEPTIONS to knocking off migratory birds, as outlined by the treaty, are that both contracting parties can proclaim limited open seasons on certain types of fowl when they are considered over-plentiful, but the killers must eat them themselves; musn't offer them for sale.

Also Indians and Eskimos may kill them solely for food under specified conditions, but they can't sell them, either. So, if any Eskimo comes around peddling dead birds, you can be assured he is black-marketing.

COL. HAROLD BECKLEY, grizzled superintendent of the Senate Press Gallery, swears that what actually prompted the treaty was the anti-starling feeling that agitated the Capital. Starlings long have been one of Washington's major problems; in fact, they got so bad at one time that fellows with shotguns were commissioned to crawl about the cornices of the Capitol building and shoot them away.

Well—the starlings are British birds. And Col. Beckley avers the British took the starling-potting amiss. Since then it has been illegal to shoot at a starling, unless Ickes happens to be standing directly behind it.

I HAVE just been made a life member of the Society for the Prevention of Calling Sleeping Car Porters "George."

You may recall that I wrote about this distinguished organization a while back, reporting that outstanding members are Sen. Walter George, of Georgia, and Maj.-Gen. George Lull, deputy surgeon general.

Together with the membership card, I have just received this letter from the society's secretary, Mr. George W. Dulany of Clinton, Ia.:

"The society was started as a joke when Adm. George Dewey became our first president, George Ade our poet laureate and George M. Cohan our lyricist.

"However, our membership has grown to over 34,000, and we have practically put a stop to a careless public custom that was becoming almost national, for seldom now are our delicate sensibilities rasped by hearing our baptismal appellation promiscuously bandied about."

Mr. Dulany said the society had taken due note of a gentleman named George R. George whom I discovered in Washington and had sent him a life membership also.

ROSALIND RUSSELL is wearing a bandaged toe to the Colony these days . . . Victor Saville, who will do the Gertrude Lawrence autobiography for the screen, is in favor of doing it with actors playing all the parts of the real-life characters in the book—and if possible a newcomer in Gertie's part. Many persons named in the biog are living and available, but Bea Lillie is the only phogenic one . . . The widowed Mrs. Addison Randall (Barbara Bennett) is houseguesting with her sister Joan on the Coast.

They were supposed to dance duets—but Fred Astaire will be Joan's partner when the film hits the screen . . . Gotham in some respects is getting to be just like the "good old days" if you thought the roaring thirties were good. "Characters" inhabit the night clubs, shady lads flash fat bankrolls in expensive restaurants, and a gambling czar whose name made headlines in 1944 has installed his new sweetheart in an 11-room Park ave. apartment.

HOLLYWOOD, Aug. 18.—What could be better off the headlines than the news that Sol Lesser has the hit from World War I, "Civilian Clothes," all revamped and ready to roll now that V-J Day is here and past? Keeping as quiet as a mouse about this property because of the timely title and topic, Sol's writers have brought the former Thompson Buchanan comedy-drama up to date with even the potential star, Lon McCallister, pencilled into the top spot.

Jane Wyman

The story idea is a natural—about a girl who marries a boy who looks dashing in his air corps uniform, but, oh, the headache when the war is over and he shows up in his outrageous taste in civilian clothes! Lon, of course, is in the Air Corps and it is hoped he will be discharged in time for the movie.

JANE WYMAN, all done up to the teeth, was on the MGM lot today conferring with Clarence Brown for the mother role in "The Yearling." I had thought the picture was nearly finished and the mother already been chosen, but apparently only the Florida sequences have been shot. Jane, of course, is under contract to Warners and she is being borrowed from them. Her last picture was also made away from her home lot—"The Lost Weekend" at Paramount.

THE DORIS LE ROY-Charles Vidor romance is on but my money says these two won't wed—not for a while. Doris and Charles are just divorced—she from Mervyn Le Roy and he from Evelyn Keyes—and they'll probably think twice before taking the matrimonial leap again. Vidor starts work in September at Columbia directing Rita Hayworth in "Gilda," the dramatic movie she makes with Glenn Ford. Remember he directed her in "Cover Girl"—the best picture she ever made.

THE BEAUTIES in Central America will have a chance on the screen. In conjunction with the leading newspapers 20th Century-Fox is co-sponsoring a search for the most photogenic girls in Honduras, El Salvador, Panama, Nicaragua, Costa Rico and Guatemala. Each country will select its most talented and loveliest girl and send her to Costa Rica where the "City of Flowers" will be made by 20th.

★ ★ ★

A LINE OR TWO: Despite those rumors the Keenan Wynns were together at the Chi-Chi Cafe. Another guest at the opening was the famous operatic star, Madame Galli-Curci with her husband. Sydney Greenstreet also gave a dinner and Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Lasky, Lana Turner and many others were in at the new cafe, formerly Sardi's . . . The reason Mrs. Ray Milland didn't go East to meet Ray as she planned is because of the very serious illness of her mother. It's very unfair to say they are having trouble again . . .

★ ★ ★

SNAPSHOTS OF HOLLYWOOD COLLECTED AT RANDOM: June Allyson's engagement ring, a star sapphire with diamonds, was designed by Dick Powell. No one on the MGM lot would be one whit surprised if they elope any day; Cobina Wright, Jr's., birthday was Aug. 14. What a celebration she had; Jackie Coogan, out of uniform, glimpsed at Charley Foy's with Norma Hall Netcher, the ex-Mrs. Townsend Netcher; Howard Strickling left for Boston on a few hours' notice to take charge of the opening of "Ziegfeld Follies" there; Lucille Watson read a poem at Ethel Barrymore's birthday party that was written in 1906 when Ethel was in "Alice Sit by the Fire." Lionel Barrymore, who seldom goes anywhere, was at the party at George Cukor's house. Somerset Maugham, Clifton Webb, the Irving Berlins, Greta Garbo and Katharine Hepburn were among the celebrities who toasted Miss Barrymore on her birthday, which came on the day the glorious news was received Japan had surrendered.

Boston After Dark

WHEN THEATRICAL PRODUCERS are in a bad way financially, the first hint of their temporary misery often is received by a famous Boston hotel which has housed nearly all the great persons of the so-called "legit" . . . The hotel is beloved of the people of the theatre . . . Its Boston owner-operator has gone out of his way to be nice to the visiting casts and their producers and writers . . . And his consideration generally has been reciprocated.

★ ★ ★

THE THEATER BEING the all-out gamble that it is, however, situations of strain and embarrassment recur . . . In the hotel's 18 years of existence, some of the important "names" in show-business have been obliged to ask for consideration to ask for some time to raise the money to meet their bills . . . In those exciting 18 years, the hotel's percentage of loss was minuscule . . . Less than $5000 in uncollectable bills are charged off against the folk of the theater . . . Not one actor has ever failed to pay . . . The chief item in "bad debts" belongs to one of the very great producers of the theater, a gentleman who has passed on

★ ★ ★

THIS PERSONAGE OWED the Boston inn more than $4000 . . . But with this bill assuming sizable proportions in his last visit here, the producer's mode of life went merrily along in its zestful resemblance to the life of an Indian potentate . . . One of the late producer's last free-handed acts (at the hotel's expense, as it turned out) was the staging of a $750 dinner party . . . The champagne was a famous vintage, and the caviar, the producer stipulated, should be served from those five-pound buckets which were available—if you were a millionaire—before the War.

★ ★ ★

ANOTHER YOUNG PRODUCER who has a show now in preparation has ruined his credit for life at the Boston hotel . . . New to the business after serving an apprenticeship here as a ticket scalper near the North Station, this young man pulled his costly boner last winter . . . He had a bit of trouble with an earlier show, his credit having been somewhat damaged when he was forced to check out with a large bill outstanding . . . This was liquidated just before he brought his second production into Boston last winter

★ ★ ★

THE MANAGEMENT, while appreciating the payment of the first bill, was a bit reluctant to extend unlimited credit to the young man in his second venture . . . But he pleaded and pleaded with the management for permission to register himself and his writers and stars (one a Hollywood lady of considerable reputation) at the hotel.

★ ★ ★

HE POINTED OUT THAT his standing with his creditors and stars would be imparied should some difficulty about checking into that particular hotel arise . . . The management considerately saw his point, and—with a managerial sigh—checked him in . . . The producer had fortified his argument somewhat by posting $500 with the cashier.

★ ★ ★

BUT THE young man apparently had thought out a way to offset the outlay of that $500 investment . . . He checked in Saturday and by Sunday he had drawn $250 from an obliging cashier who had not been acquainted with all the circumstances . . . On Monday came along two c. o. d. items which the desk paid for, and which wiped out the $500 . . . At the end of the producer's Boston visit he again had managed to place the hotel in the red to the sum of $600-plus . . . The show was a flop and the bill is still outstanding

★ ★ ★

ANOTHER YOUNG BROADWAY producer, on the contrary, has set himself solid with the management for life . . . When his show—which failed last season at a cost of some $150,000—came to an unfortunate end here in Boston, this lad owed the hotel $1500 . . . But he told the management his story, and asked for time to liquidate the obligation . . . In partial but regular payments, the entire bill has been paid off.

How Japan Got That Way; A Five-Minute History

By AUSTEN LAKE

THE AVERAGE AMERICAN needs some re-education too! For the casual U. S. citizen knows or cares as little about Japan history or its mentality as he does about the yonder side of the moon. To him Japan is a fantastic museum curio; its people something out of a circus sideshow like Ringling's two-headed chicken and the rubber-skinned people. We smashed 'em! So why bother! Let's get back to business!

Austen Lake

Yet Japan's last 79 years of history make an open guide to the future—as plain as a road map! She is as incapable of resisting another attempt at war as an epileptic is from recurring fits. Thus a five-minute study of Japan's past record will teach Americans that she is NOT licked—yet! For her busy ant-heap population is capable of swift miracles—if we let them! What Japan did in the last 79 years—and it is the most amazing story of mankind—she can do again, faster and more emphatically—if we allow it!

Japan Performed a Miracle

DURING THE SPAN OF ONE MAN'S life—the year was 1866, Japan was an abysmally blank, medieval nation clothed in quilted nightgowns. Her men wore upswept hairdos, leather armour and wooden clogs. They had no inkling or interest for the mysteries of mechanics, science, sanitation or medicine. She was a self-imposed hermit from the world with no ships larger than tub-sized fisher boats, no metallurgy other than primitive hand-smelters, and hoe-and-hand basket mining. Her weapons were a few brass cannon, razor-sharp swords and bows and arrows. She stayed that way for 13 years after Commodore Perry intimidated her (1853) with four wooden ships and 500 U. S. Marines.

Read H. G. Wells on the subject: "Never in human history has a nation made the stupendous strides that Japan did. In 1866 she was a fantastic caricature of romantic feudalism, ignorant of the most elemental science. Yet by 1899 her people were completely Westernized, masters of modern method and scientifically on a level with the most advanced European powers. Her progress made that of Europe seem sluggish and stupid by comparison."

Before Perry's invasion Japan was content to remain self-ostracized. Japs who left the country were subject to death penalty. Japan lived in a picturesque lotus dream enlivened by blood feuds. Says Wells: "All common Japanese were obliged to kneel when a noble and his retinue passed. To betray the slightest disrespect was to be slashed to death by the noble's samurai. The elect classes lived for romantic adventure, accomplishing nothing and with no redeeming gleam of novelty. They loved, murdered and pursued fine points of honor—immersed in mental torpor."

That was Japan in 1866, one year after Gen. Lee surrendered to Grant at Appomattox! Yet 39 years later (1905) Japan was one of the mightiest maritime nations on earth with a merchant fleet grossing 1,376,320 tons, including 1988 steamships fabricated in her own shipyards and steel plants. The abysmal little brown runt had learned in that short time to equal the best of Western engineering lore. And that was the year when the Jap navy sunk or captured the entire fleet of the biggest nation on earth—Russia. Japan's delusion of military grandeur was born!

Within 40 years after emerging from total medievalism Japan has 4746 miles of railroads, not including the equal ownership with China of the South Manchuria Railroad. Her mines were yielding metals worth fifty million a year. She had 7458 industrial or commercial companies capitalized at $350,000,000. She exported drugs, chemicals, machinery, canned products, textiles, toys and all manner of household articles—all duplications or imitations of Western ideas.

Her Skill Grew, But Her Mind Did Not

HER MAJOR CITIES GRADUALLY copied occidental architecture. Her youth graduated from foreign technical schools. Her young officers studied at German military colleges. Her people adopted Western dress. Forty years after being the most backward nation on earth Japan was competing in the markets of the world, swamping other nations with cheap goods at low labor costs. Commodore Perry's primitive protege had surpassed its master in enterprise, skill and energy. Japan's superman concept was born, the national egotism that it was divinely ordained to rule a world it had ignored for ages.

Yet, internally, both socially and spiritually, Japan did not keep pace with its sudden industrialism. It remained mentally as medieval as the moment when Perry's flotilla entered its harbor. Its hidebound fanaticism stayed rigidly framed by the ancient barbarian code of the Sun-God, the Shinto priests and warrior cabal. It borrowed all foreign modernisms but remained impervious to foreign ideologies and social reform. And today and tomorrow the Japs will stay as mentally backward as they are mechanically forward—a menaceful mixture of war-making.

Given 10 years, or even less, to reshape her scattered forces and refashion her disordered machinery, Japan will recover her war potentiality with a plus. Her insect-like talents for industry, her self-Japs will stay as mentally backward as it is mechanically forward her double humiliation at American hands will raise her, like a phoenix from her ashes, to tax America's depleted strength to the limit. For Japan, like Germany, knows it has only to win ONE war—the last one for 1000 years.

Therefore America's duty to the world and human right is plain. It is to strip Japan of all war potentials forever and return her industries to the level of her savage medieval mind! Not for 10 years. Not for 20 years! But FOREVER. It's America's trust

Layden Rules Out Yankee Deal

CHICAGO, Aug. 18 (INS)—Elmer Layden, commissioner of the National Football League, today tossed out a deal in which the Boston Yanks were to send Bill Iancello to the Pittsburgh Steelers for Alex Wizbicki.

He ruled that Iancello, an end who played at Catawba and Franklin-Marshal, entered college in 1942 and was not eligible to be chosen in the league draft.

Philly Looks Like Army-Navy Selection

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 18 (AP)—Philadelphia virtually had the Army-Navy football game in the bag last night. Place: Municipal Stadium. Date: Dec. 1.

The Quaker City apparently clinched the classic with announcement by the Office of Defense Transportation that all sports travel for teams and fans

WITH GAS, travel and exhibit bans removed, the Marshfield Fair, which opens a six-day meeting of horse racing on Monday, is looking forward to the most successful Fair in its history . . . Ernie Sparrell will once more be in charge of the horse racing end of the program, while Charley Langille will direct the numerous other events on the card.

Racing Secretary Jimmy Piecarillo expects to have 200 horses on the grounds by Monday . . . The lifting of the ban on the shipment of horses will make it possible for thoroughbreds, whose owners do not own their own vans, to move in from Pascoag and other points in public vans . . .

Ernie Sparrell

Horace Wade will be presiding steward at the Marshfield Fair with Norman Costello, Perry Osborne and Dr. Eugene Bradley as his aides . . . Eddie Welch, turf writer and handicapper, will be the steward representing the Massachusetts Racing Commission.

The Fair horses will have a week's layoff following the Marshfield meeting as the Northampton Fair is set to open six days of racing on Labor Day.

Brockton and Great Barrington will follow Northampton in that order . . . The half-milers will then have a brief layoff before Pascoag opens its long fall meeting.

The public gets a closeup of the action at the half-mile tracks . . . This is one of the reasons this type of racing has become so popular in New England.

Cerdan to Come Here

MARCEL CERDAN, French middleweight, is expected to come to the United States to box at Shows to be staged by Mike Jacobs' 20th Century Ciuo . . . Jack Sharkey refereed some of Cerdan's service bouts in the Allied tournament in Africa . . . Sharkey told me that Cerdan is as good an action fighter as hammering Henry Armstrong was when at the peak of his career . . . Sharkey looks to see Cerdan one of the leading international fistic stars during the postwar period.

Jacobs is considering a bout between Joe Louis and Bruce Woodcock, British heavyweight champion, to be staged near London . . . Such a match would establish a new attendance record at a ring show in England . . . When Woodcock comes to the United States, he will be represented in this country by Johnny Rogers, who has handled many top-flight American boxers.

Freddy Mill, British lightheavyweight, may also come to this country . . . Jacobs plans to stage weekly boxing shows in New York . . . when unable to get Garden dates, he will hold shows at the St. Nicholas Arena, where he will try to develop promising young boxers.

WITH CHARLEY Keller out of the Merchant Marine and ready to play ball again, Joe McCarthy's Yanks will have considerable more power . . . Keller and Joe DiMaggio always gave the Yanks plenty of batting punch.

Heflin Hurls For Red Sox

By HUCK FINNEGAN

CHICAGO, Aug. 18—Randy Heflin, whose one major league victory was a four-hit shutout of Detroit, squared off against southpaw Eddie Lopat in the final game of the Red Sox White Sox series today.

Lopat licked the Red Sox the last time he pitched against them in Boston, and to get some power in the attack Joe Cronin sent Pete Fox to right field instead of the left-handed hitting Johnny Lazor.

Spark plug of the White Sox, Wally Moses, was out of the lineup. Guy Curtright took his place in right field. "I'm tired," Moses said to Dykes, and from the way the veteran has been running in this stories nobody doubted him.

FIRST INNING

RED SOX—Lake flied to Hockett. Michael threw out La Forest. Cuccinello threw out Fox. NO RUNS.

WHITE SOX—Curtright fanned and went out, Holm to Metkovich. Newsome threw out Farrell. Lake threw out Schalk. NO RUNS.

SECOND INNING

RED SOX—Johnson singled. McBride popped to Michaels back of second base and Johnson was doubled off first, Michaels to Farrell. Cuccinello tossed out Newsome. NO RUNS.

WHITE SOX—Dickshot fouled to Holm. Cuccinello singled. Hockett fouled to Johnson and Cuccinello was doubled off first, Johnson to Metkovich. NO RUNS.

THIRD INNING

RED SOX—Metkovich lifted to Curtright. Holm flied to Dickshot. Heflin fanned. NO RUNS.

WHITE SOX—Michaels struck out. Tresh walked. Lopat reached first when Newsome dropped Lake's throw trying to force Tresh at second. Newsome was put out of the game for arguing with umpire Grieve on the play at second. Tobin now playing second base for the Red Sox. Curtright forced Lopat at second, La Forest to Tobin. Farrell singled, Tresh scoring. Schalk doubled, scorting Curtright. Dickshot walked, filling the bases. Cuccinello flied to McBride. TWO RUNS.

FOURTH INNING

RED SOX—Michaels threw out Lake. La Forest singled. Fox struck out. Johnson singled. McBride singled, scoring La Forest. Tobin forced McBride, Cuccinello to Schalk. ONE RUN.

WHITE SOX—Hockett flied to Fox. Michaels popped to Tobin. Tresh singled. Lopat doubled, scoring Tresh. Curtright popped to Tobin. ONE RUN.

Minor Leaguers To Show Respect

COLUMBUS, O., Aug. 18 (AP)—George M. Trautman, president of the American Association, said today that Sunday's day of prayer proclaimed by President Truman would be observed by association home clubs in a manner each considered appropriate.

He suggested that a minister offer prayer before the first game, that a minute of silent prayer by the spectators and prayers follow, and that the national anthem be sung.

Ready to Plan For World Series

CHICAGO, Aug. 18 (INS) — Plans for the 1945 World Series may be reviewed and revised as a result of the lifting by the ODT of travel restrictions on sports.

This was indicated yesterday by Will Harridge, president of the American League who also expressed the league's appreciation "for the splendid consideration which baseball received from ODT Director Col. Johnson."

War time travel restrictions limited World Series teams to one trip each, starting in one city and ending in the second regardless of the number of games played.

Prewar baseball shifted the series between the cities, with two games played in the first, three in the second city and a return to the original diamond if neither team scored four victories.

Bob Feller to Join Indians Next Week

GREAT LAKES, Ill., Aug. 18 (AP)—Speed-ball star Bob Feller will rejoin the Cleveland Indians next week, probably Thursday, after more than three and a half years of Navy service.

Commodore Robert M. M. Emmet of the Great Lakes Naval Training Station said today that Feller had requested his release under the Navy's point discharge system and claimed 45 points, one more than necessary for release.

The former Tribe pitching ace, who has managed the Great Lakes baseball team this season, filed his application for release today, Emmet said, but it will be several days before it is finally approved. "He should be in Cleveland somewhere around Thursday," the commodore said.

"I am very sorry to see Feller go," Emmet declared. "He was of great service to the Navy, both as a crew member of the battleship Indiana and as an athlete."

Feller could not be reached for comment immediately, but Emmet asserted that "if Bob says he has enough points for release, that's good enough for me. We'll check his application the same as everybody else's, though."

Emmet said the bluejacket baseball team would be managed by Pinky Higgins, former Detroit Tigers third baseman, after Feller leaves.

Tribe Vice-Pres. Roger Peckinpaugh also reported he had heard nothing of the release. However, he added the addition of "Rapid Robert," who won 25 games in 1943, would give the Indians a great impetus in the final pennant dash.

Feller, now 26, came to the Indians in 1936 and quickly became a major league sensation. He pitched a no-hit game against the Chicago White Sox in Chicago the opening day of the 1940 season and he holds the big league record for strikeouts, 18, against Detroit Oct. 12, 1938.

Feller entered service Dec. 11, 1941.

Gallorette and Busher to Meet

CHICAGO, Aug. 18 (AP)—Benjamin F. Lindheimer, executive director of Arlington-Washington Park, said yesterday he was attempting to arrange a match race between the season's two outstanding 3-year-old fillies, Louis B. Mayer's Busher and Gallorette, which has been campaigned in the East by Walter L. Brann of Frederick, Md.

Plans call for the race to be run either Aug. 25 or Aug. 28 for a $25,000 purse, all to go to the winner. In addition, the management would add a gold cup as an appropriate recognition of championship. The distance would be either a mile or a mile and an eighth.

Busher, a daughter of War Admiral, has won $201,920.

Gallorette, a daughter of Challenger 2nd, won all the fillies specials for her age in the East. Her top triumph came in the $50,000 Empire City stakes, in which she beat Pavot at a mile and three-sixteenths.

Army-Navy In Philly

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 18 (AP)—The Army-Navy football classic apparently is headed back to its traditional Philadelphia peacetime site.

Lifting of the Office of Defense transportation ban on sports travel virtually clinched the grid extravaganza for the Quaker City's 102,000 capacity municipal stadium on Dec. 1.

West Point and Annapolis authorities immediately assured Mayor Bernard Samuel they'd be glad to bring their teams here provided transportation conditions permit.

After slating a round of conferences next week to iron out the matter for certain, Samuel announced he expected the game to be played at the stadium "and we are going ahead immediately with preparations."

Philadelphia holds a seven-year contract with the service schools with three games left to play. Transportation difficulties caused shifting of the classic to West Point and Annapolis after Pearl Harbor.

"If we can get the 2500 cadets down to Philadelphia," declared Col. Lawrence (Biff) Jones, athletic director at the Military Academy, "that's where we want the game played. We'd rather have it there than in New York."

Jones added, however, that "we haven't come to any decision on it yet. The situation is changing rapidly, though, and in a week or 10 days we should be able to decide definitely."

Capt. C. O. Humphries, director of athletics at Annapolis, stated "Navy definitely would like to see the game played in Philadelphia." He said "it's Army's home game this year and we'll go wherever they want the game played. I'm glad they want Philadelphia also."
